THE O'HARA CHAMPION

CHLORIDIZING FURNACE,

CHRISTMAS.

BORN—In Bethlehem, Judea, Jesus Christ, the son of God, the Saviour of man—"the mysterious link connecting the transcendent and incomprehensible attributes of Deity with human sympathies and affections."

That Christ was born on the 25th of December is still a mooted question; but the day has been observed so long, that, for the purposes of this article, it is hardly worth while to enter the discussion. The birthday of the Saviour was in the early years of the church the most movable of the Christian festive days, often confounded with the Epiphany, and celebrated by the eastern churches in the months of April or May. In the fourth century the urgency of St. Cyril of Jerusalem obtained from Pope Julius I. an order for an investigation to be made concerning the day of Christ's nativity. The result of this inquiry by the theologians of the East and West was an agreement upon the 25th of December. This decision was generally accepted, and from that time the nativity has been celebrated throughout the church on the same day.

Many of the observances of Christmas have been derived from pagan rites. The custom of decorating houses and churches with evergreens, is derived from ancient Druid practices. It was an old belief that sylvan spirits might flock to the evergreens, and remain untripped by frost till a milder season.

The custom of singing canticles, or carols, at Christmas is in imitation of the songs of the shepherds at the birth of Christ. It is still quite prevalent in England.

The burning of the Yule log is a very ancient Christmas ceremony, transmitted from the Scandinavians, who, at their feast of Joul, at the Winter solstice, used to kindle huge bonfires in honor of their god Thor. In old times, in England it used to be the practice to preserve half of the Yule log from one Christmas to another. The preservation of this log was thought to entail good luck, and it was considered a most effectual security against the house taking fire.

The Christmas-Tree, with its presents, is derived from Germany, where trees were first made use of to display the presents made to children. The practice is now common throughout Christian nations, and forms one of the most pleasant features of this festival.

Throughout the middle ages, and down to the period of the Reformation, the festival of Christmas was celebrated in the most boisterous manner. On the adoption of a new system of faith by most of the northern nations of Europe in the sixteenth century, the Lutheran and Anglican churches retained the celebration of Christmas in a more subdued manner, while the Calvinists rejected it absolutely, as did the Puritan settlers of New England. But a great change in regard to the observance of Christmas has taken place in the United States within the memory of middle-aged people. Time was when it was not regarded as a holiday, and when the usual business of the world did not recognize it from other days. One reason for its more general observance here is to be traced to the influx of people from the old world. The Catholic and the Episcopalian are great lovers of the Christmas festival, and on no account will they forego its observance. The common people, recognizing the propriety of the festival, have joined in keeping it, and now it is a universal holiday. Like our American Thanksgiving, its social aspect has outgrown its religious form, and Christmas has become a day of family re-union, rejoicing and merriment. The hallowed feelings of domestic love and attachment receive new strength under the Christmas board. It is well. Let us keep Christmas, in memory of the angelic message to the shepherds of Bethlehem—"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will to men."

TAXING CHURCH PROPERTY.

The press of this country has, almost unanimously, advocated the propriety and justice of taxing church property; and the recommendation of President Grant, in his recent Message, to tax all church property in the country, has reopened this question. Few people are aware of the immense, and fast accumulating, value of non-taxable property in churches, cathedrals, colleges, &c., and which, in all justice, should pay a tax like all private or individual estates. The most reliable statistics (census returns of 1870) estimate our church property at three hundred and fifty to four hundred million dollars, divided as follows, viz:—

| | |
|----------------------|--------------|
| Methodists..... | $61,854,121 |
| Roman Catholic..... | 60,885,568 |
| Protestant..... | 53,285,278 |
| Episcopal..... | 41,609,168 |
| Episcopalian..... | 36,514,540 |
| Congregational..... | 25,068,498 |
| Reformed Church..... | 16,134,470 |
| Lutherans..... | 14,917,747 |

This question of taxing church property is not sectarian (as many people imagine), and aims no blow at any one religious denomination. The above estimate shows that the Methodists own the largest amount of church property in this country, and General Grant is an accredited (if not zealous) member of that denomination; yet he earnestly advocates the taxation of its church edifices, like all other property. In this we think he is right; and we have yet to find an equitable reason why any class of property should escape the burthens of taxation. If any exception is to be made, it should be in favor of charitable institutions— Asylums for the aged, the sick, and insane.

Certain people argue that religious temples, cathedrals, mosques, etc., should not be taxed, because they are our moral colleges, our universities of faith, our accredited halls of religious teaching; and that a wise and progressive government should foster, encourage and protect them by "non taxation." Admitting and conceding the moral influence of churches (excepting the propagation of mere creed) and we see no reason why they should not contribute to the expenses of the authority that protects them. Some of our church corporations are immensely rich, own vast land estates, build costly temples (not for a purer faith, but for meretricious ornamentation and show) and the fact that they are exempt from taxation, tends to increase this architectural pride and sectarian display. It is well known that the city churches of to day are not built for the poor, but for the wealthy; and that the cost of pew rent is beyond the reach of the great mass of the people. Non taxation of church property helps to close their doors against the poor man, against his widow, against his struggling and starving children; and is, in fact, building up a religious aristocracy throughout the country. Church property should be taxed, proportionally, like all other real estates; and we know of no reason why Christians should be less honest than other people.

The effort to raise the money for a statue to Horace Greeley, in Printing House square, New York, is a failure, and the little money given has been returned. The above paragraph has been through the city and country press for months; and it may be substantially correct; but what a sorrowful comment on the ingratitude of friends! Horace Greeley was one of the representative men of this nation; one who lived a pure and blameless life; one who did as much, and probably more, to elevate the common rank of manhood than any of his contemporaries. And yet sufficient money can not be raised to erect a statue to his memory. Poor Greeley! murdered by political assassins, and no memorial tablet to perpetuate his greatness, philanthropy and fame.

A TOLERABLY animated Chinese war has been raging for some time past in Virginia City. Two rival companies of Celestials have declared hostilities against each other, and have been making things lively in the sagebrush metropolis. The ultimate causes of the trouble still remain shrouded in that impenetrable mystery which ordinarily envelopes all the rows of the people of the Flowery Kingdom.

The population of Metz has fallen from 50,000 to 12,000 since the German occupation.

THE STOCK MARKET.

The San Francisco Alta is authority for the annexed item. Its utterances for the past and present we all know to be truthful, and if its prophecies of the future shall be realized, we can all afford to wait for "the good time coming."

There is a strong lack of confidence in the majority of shares, and the timid holders have grown so numerous lately, especially since the occurrence of the disasters dating from August last, that they seize upon the smallest profits. This feeling is not likely to last long; and it exists not only in stocks, but also in most every other branch of business. It is the natural sequence of the failure of such a strong moneyed institution as was the Bank of California, the going into liquidation of what was supposed to be such a carefully conducted corporation as the Trust Company, and the closing of other banks for a time. When this feeling of uneasiness wears away, a perceptible change will be noticed in every field of trade, and stocks will rally, realizing a better market than was ever indulged in by the stock operating community. Such mines as the Con. Virginia and California will realize larger prices than they have ever heretofore brought; but this will not be the case until the money market is freed from all those feelings of insecurity which now prevail. Had the violent financial convulsions occurred in other localities than this, a series of years would be required to recover the lost confidence and wealth, and it is not strange if, after the financial afflictions imposed upon our people, closely followed by a fire which threatened the destruction of our most productive mines, that a timidity should exist upon the part of those people who have money to lend, and also deter capital from investing. But the effects of these shocks are now gradually wearing away, and in two or three months there will be nothing left of them but the remembrances of the fright they caused. Although no new developments are being made, the presentations of the mines are most favorable for a re-umption of large bullion yields in January, but which product will not be serviceable for assistance to a close financial situation until the middle of February or March.

BRISTOW'S VIEWS.

The Secretary of the Treasury, in discussing the financial situation of the country, expresses some sound views of the resumption of specie payment. The following paragraph is full of good sound sense:

"Every branch of industry and all classes of people are alike interested in the restoration of a sound and stable circulating medium, the laborer and producer no less than the merchant, bond holder and banker. The present unequal and fluctuating currency oppresses and injures laborers and producers, who constitute a great majority of our people, far more than it affects injuriously dealers in money. The difference between gold and our paper currency is a margin upon which experienced money dealers do business, and it is this that gives the opportunity for artificial combinations whereby values are increased or reduced at pleasure. The purchasing power of the currency is increased or diminished by the manipulations of large operators united for that purpose, and producers and laborers are often made to suffer without effective power of resistance. Restoration of a sound and unvarying currency must bring better relative wages with more constant employment, because the value of labor, as to that which it produces, will be measured by a more certain standard; and, with the return of confidence, there must come activity, prosperity, larger markets, and greater demand, which, as both reason and experience prove, do not tend to lower wages or make employment less certain."

THE FRENCH HAIR MARKET.—An important French industry is the manufacture of human hair into various articles of use and ornament, these finding a market in almost all parts of the world. In England young women who have choice and abundant tresses are often compelled by poverty to part with them, for the sake of the money, to the hair workers, but in France it is a regular system. The hair merchants in Paris send agents in the Spring to the country districts to purchase all such hair; these agents frequent the fairs and markets, having with them a plentiful stock of handkerchiefs, muslins, ribbons, etc., which they give in exchange for the hair. So sensitive a barometer is commerce of slight changes in the value of exchangeable goods that the agents know the hair of a particular district to be worth a few sous more per pound than that of a district thirty or forty miles away—a fact which naturalists would be long finding out. It is estimated that some hundreds of thousands of pounds of hair are annually obtained in this way. The agents send the hair to their employers, by whom it is dressed and sorted and sold to the hair workers in the chief towns.

NEVADA MINING NEWS.

[From the Gold Hill News of Thursday.]

Julia.

Sinking the main shaft is making good progress, the rock in the bottom working well. The 1000-foot station is completed, and a main drift is being driven toward the ledge with all possible energy, and very flattering prospects. The main south-west drift on 1500-foot level is being rapidly driven forward, the face in fine ledge matter. The main south-west drift on the 1400-foot level is steadily advancing in very favorable ground. The machinery is working finely, and the prospects of the Julia are evidently looking up.

Justice.

Ore extraction and development goes steadily ahead at the 400 and 600-foot levels, the yield being about 30 tons per day, which is being reduced at the Spring Valley mill. The main shaft has reached the 1000-foot level and a new level will shortly be opened to develop the mine at that depth. The drift north at the 800-foot level is running in fine looking vein matter, giving good assays, and should soon reach the main ore body developed in the level above.

Ophir.

The machinery, both pumping and hoisting, is all running finely, and the water is being steadily lowered in the shaft below the 1500-foot level. The erection of the new incline machinery is nearly completed, and everything in and about the works will soon be ready to resume the extraction of ore from the lower levels. A large force of mechanics and laborers are employed on the works, and all the energy possible is being displayed in the advancement of the work.

Overman.

The shaft has been drained of water, the timbers repaired, and everything put in good shape for resuming the sinking which will be done in a few days more. The main west drift on the 1100-foot level is being steadily advanced, the face in good running ground. The main south drift from the bottom of the winze on the same level is also in easy working ground. The main south drift on the 900-foot level is steadily advancing, with no change of value.

Chollar-Potosi.

Daily yield, 60 tons of ore, the average assay value of which is $28 per ton. There is no change in any of the ore stopes or breasts. The two main south drifts on the 1250 and 1350-foot levels are advancing at the very rapid rate of 5 feet per day, there being no material change in the character of the porphyry and ledge matter encountered in each. Sinking the new shaft is making good progress, the rock in the bottom working finely.

Silver Hill.

The fourth station in the main shaft is completed, and a drift started to cut the ore vein, which is now in a distance of 33 feet, the face in fair running ground. The main incline is down 18 feet below the fourth station, the bottom in good working ground.

Crown Point.

Daily yield, 425 tons of ore. The ore breasts show no change whatever. Sinking the winze, below the 1500-foot level is making good progress, the bottom still in ore. The main south drift, on the 1600-foot level, is being steadily advanced without change.

Belcher.

Daily yield, 450 tons of ore. The ore breasts are looking well and yielding the usual amount of good milling ore. The bullion yield promises to be fully equal this month to that of November, the returns showing a large increase in the amount of gold value in the pulp and bullion assays.

Consolidated Virginia.

Daily yield, 650 tons of ore. It is with pleasure that we record the fact that this mine is again producing ore at the rate of $1,800,000 per month. California.

But little has been done on the lower levels during the past week, owing to the want of a dump in which to place the ore extracted while running the prospecting drifts.

FLOOD & O'BRIEN are passive, and protect only California and Consolidated Virginia; Sharon and Jones are making preparations to attend to their Senatorial duties at Washington; Lucky Baldwin is inspecting his ranch in the neighborhood of Los Angeles; Jas. Keene is endeavoring to recover his health by early airings at the Park, and General Williams is entirely absorbed and amused at the wayward movements of Justice.—S. F. Alta.

THEY offer a premium at the Oregon State fair for the man who kills the most squirrels in the course of the year, and it went, this time, to an old chap of over 70, whose tally was 1538.

A new Paris telescope brings the moon to within ten miles of the earth, and a Michigan woman thinks that if she were given room to yell, she could get up a conversation with some other woman up there.

A Masonic Colony for the Hawaiian Islands.

A gentleman departs for the Hawaiian Islands this week per bark Mary Bella Roberts, who propose to found a Masonic colony on one of the islands of the Archipelago. This is Professor Melchior Peccinini, who arrived here some four months ago from Italy. During his stay in this State he visited several of the southern counties with the hope of purchasing land for a colony, but was not successful in finding a location to suit him. Professor Peccinini is a prominent Mason, and brings letters from Rome and London to aid him in his project. He was for four years Latin Professor in the only Protestant college in Italy, and has medals of honor conferred upon him by societies in Europe for essays on political economy and finance. He is also honorary President of the Italian Society for the Amelioration of Women. He goes to the Sandwich Islands alone, but intends to return after the purchase of a suitable location and produce members for the colony in San Francisco and elsewhere. He will take letters of introduction to King Kalakaua and other prominent gentlemen in Honolulu, which will guarantee him a cordial reception. The Masons are strong in the Islands, and have three Lodges there.—S. F. Chronicle.

THERE are now seven colored men in Congress. Three of them could not read till the war emancipated them. One, Robert Small, served in the army and navy on both sides.

THE decrease of the national currency last month, by the withdrawal of bank circulation was $4,514,215.

| Gold in New York yesterday.....113 1/2 | |

"Gentle reader," "in accordance with the time honored custom" we shall not issue a paper to-morrow. We can, of course, appreciate the sorrow that it will cause you.

THEATER TO-NIGHT.—The McGinley's send forth a "Merry Christmas," and present an attractive bill at the Opera House this evening. Mr. E. L. Bridges, Reno's best amateur, has kindly volunteered for the occasion, and will appear in the beautiful comedy of the "Day after the Wedding." This will be succeeded by a grand olio, and the performance will conclude with a laughable farce. The admission will only be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children over 8 years of age. Children under that age, accompanied by their parents, will be admitted free. We hope to see a full house greet the McGinley's to night.

THE DANCE.—The "domino party" of the Home Circle Club at Dyer's Hall last evening was a trump card for the Club. The Floor Managers were assiduous in their efforts to make it pleasant for the dancers, and succeeded admirably. It was the universal expression that the party was one of the most select and fashionable ever seen in the town. Dancers can now take a rest, until the next novelty in their line—the sheet and pillow slip ball of the Reno Library and Social Club on New Year's Eve.

ATTENTION.—All members of Reno Engine Co., No. 1, are hereby ordered to appear at Judge Gilson's office on Monday evening, at 7 o'clock. The initiatory steps toward incorporation and other important matters will come before the meeting. By order of J. L. McFarlin, Foreman.

DISAGREEABLE.—Yesterday was a windy, disagreeable day, yet notwithstanding all this the ladies were out en masse to inspect the holiday stock and to invest in the same. All of our merchants were doing a land office business. Had a day like yesterday come on Sunday it would have been by far too stormy to stir out of doors.

MERRY CHRISTMAS.—We wish all our readers a merry Christmas today. Christmas comes but once a year and it is proper that it should be properly commemorated. Reno will give itself over to the enjoyments of the hour, and will make the best of the time.

POST OFFICE.—The post office will close at 10 o'clock to-morrow forenoon, to enable the carpenters to put in a lot of new boxes. So if you want your mail call around early.

BEGGARS.—There are quite a number of beggars around town. If they can't get money to buy whisky with they will take food.

CHRISTMAS EVE.—Last night was a joyous one to the young folks of Reno. Santa Claus held high carnival all around and many were the presents that he left to gladden the youngsters. At the Episcopal Church the Tree was loaded with good things for the Sunday School scholars, and they had a grand time with their toys, books, candy, etc. The exercises were of a most interesting character, and formed an entertainment worthy of the occasion. At the Congregational Church we found two trees—one for the little folks and one for the older ones. With singing, distribution of presents, etc., the evening passed away very pleasantly indeed, and we heard the little folks regretting that Christmas Eve didn't come oftener. The log cabin at the Methodist Church proved quite a novelty. We doubt if any of our pioneers ever had their cabins filled with as many good things as was that one. The exercises were very pleasurable, particularly the song by the little bits of children, who with their attempts to yawn and nod, made the audience roar with laughter. The declamations by Miss Gibbs and Ed. McClellan were fine. Mr. Treadway, as the traditional Santa Claus, created quite a sensation when he popped down the chimney and began to distribute the gifts with lavish hand. The part was so well taken by him, that it will take considerable persuading to convince the little ones that Santa Claus hasn't a tangible existence. The evening was a fitting forerunner of the festivities of to-day.

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS.—If you wish to make a Christmas present to your wife or sister of a dress, go to Jacob Prescott's.

If you wish to make a Christmas present to your wife or sister of a fine shawl, go to Jacob Prescott's.

If you wish to make a Christmas present to your wife or sister of a nice lady's hat or bonnet, go to Jacob Prescott's.

If you wish to make a Christmas present to your wife or sister of a beautiful set of furs, go to Jacob Prescott's.

THE AMOUNT SUBSCRIBED.—The Female Seminary Committee have received subscriptions to the amount of $3,400. It is thought the $1,000 balance will be subscribed within a very few days. This showing is creditable to the people of Reno, and evinces that her citizens will rally around the flag when her interests can be improved.

ADJOURNED.—After its morning session yesterday, the Stock Board adjourned until Monday, at 11 o'clock. This is for the purpose of giving the members a chance to discuss and cuss the merits or demerits of their Christmas turkey.

JUBILEE.—On Monday evening the Tennessee Jubilee singers will appear at the Reno Opera House. The press is very enthusiastic in its praises of the troupe. All who like true melodies will be sure to attend.

ASSESSMENT WORK ON MINES.—The time for recording work on mines, in accordance with the act of Congress, will expire on the 31st instant. The holders of claims who desire to preserve their titles, should bear this in mind.

DURING the past week the Stock Market has been dull and heavy. The volume of business done has been exceedingly small, or, as the phrase goes, it has been a Brokers' Board.

BOTH of the barber shops will close this afternoon between the hours of four and six. Take warning and get fixed up before that hour.

A PRISONER in Ludlow Street Jail has prepared for the press a statement about Tweed's escape, which shows that Tweed's absences from the jail were more frequent than has been supposed. He was out with the Warden two or three times a week, and went to the theater with him several times.

A VIGILANTE organization has been formed in Sacramento, to be known as "502," and the Bee says if some of the scoundrels who infest that city do not leave they will be found some cold morning hanging to a gate post. And the same it is right.

HOLIDAY PRESENTS.—"If I were to pray for a taste which would stand me in stead under every variety of circumstances, and be a source of happiness and cheerfulness to me through life, and a shield against the ill, however things might go amiss, and the world frown upon me, it would be a taste for reading." Now, as the Holiday season approaches, and old memories are revived and new ties renewed, what shall be our token of friendship at this season, when the suggestive Holly Leaf tells us of scenes and times of good will and rejoicing, when the Hollyberries turn brown and blush for joy of Christmas tide? Shall they be shallow, trivial trifles, useless and gaudy, or gifts of lasting worth and merit? Gifts to educate and to please, to cultivate the taste, heart, soul and mind? Or presents that tarnish, and, lasting but for a time, leave only forgetfulness behind? What better gift is there than that of a good book?

"Books, we know, are a substantial world, both pure and good. Round these, with tendrils strong as flesh and blood, our pastime and our happiness will grow." "There are books, and books, and books; books on various subjects, doctrines and theories; of Mechanics, the entrancing field of inventions; of Poetry, the image of man and nature; of Philosophy, the world of profundity; of Fiction, the world of imagination; of History, the wonder world of events; of Oratory, the world of sweet elegance; of Art, the broad field of countless beauty; of Music, the boundless argument of harmony; of Divinity, the realm of the supernatural; of Religion, the shrine of devotion and benevolence."

In short, give Books. Give Books to thy friends, and let them in thy present become denizens of all lands, co-laborers in science, contemporaries of all ages, companions of artists, fellowcrafts in mechanism, rejoicers in fiction, singers in song, worshippers in devotion, poets in poetry, and in the recreation Books afford, expand every intelligence.

Where shall they be selected? The brief answer is: Call at S. M. JAMISON'S, where you can find Books adapted to all ages, and to meet every variety of taste. Should you fancy other gifts, then pass from the realm of Literature and examine their stock of Gold Pens, Gold and Silver Pencils and Cases, Photograph Albums, Autograph Albums, Secretaries, Writing Desks, Work Boxes, Portfolios, Steroscopes with select views, Mirrors, Brushes, Combs, Toiletries, and fine Goods in endless variety, both ornamental and useful.

A GOOD PLACE TO BUY RUBBERS.—Those in need of rubber boots would do well to call and examine John Sunderland's stock before purchasing elsewhere. Look at his prices. Hip boots for $5.00; Kee boots for $4.00; boy's knee rubbers, $3.00; youth's knee rubbers, $2.00; ladies' knee rubbers, $1.50; men's Arctic's, $1.50; children's, $1.00; and everything else in proportion. A full and complete stock of boots and shoes always on hand. First class boots and shoes made to order. Repairing neatly done.

DR. GROVEN is having remarkable success in surgical and general practice, with a constantly increasing business. He is not confined to any particular method, system, etc., but is governed by the knowledge accumulated from careful study, and an extensive practice of over thirty years.

DRESSMAKING.—The Misses Vance are now located on Virginia street, next door to the photograph gallery. They will receive at their dress-making establishment and make to order in the latest styles, all kinds of plain and fancy sewing.

H. M. YAZER is happy to inform the public that he has leased the Lake House, Reno, where he will be pleased to wait upon the traveling public, hoping to receive a share of their patronage.

WASHING.—Su Lee & Co are prepared to wash and iron all kinds of goods at short notice, in a satisfactory manner. Give us a fair trial it is all we ask. Washing called for and returned.

TO LET.—A furnished room, suitable for gentleman and wife or single person, enquire at Trombs & Co's grocery store.
